Profile 7 – Religion, Ethnicity and Irish Travellers

Foreword

This report is the seventh of ten Profile reports examining in more detail the definitive results of Census 2011. It examines religion, ethnic or cultural background and the Irish Traveller community in Ireland.

The report forms part of a series of census publications providing interpretation and analysis of the 2011 census results. Profile reports 1 to 6 covered population distribution and movements, the age profile of Ireland, the industries and occupations of workers, housing in Ireland, households and families and migration and diversity. The remaining 3 reports to be published between now and the end of the year will cover health and disability, education and the Irish language and commuting in Ireland. A complete list of reports and publication dates can be found on page 83 of this report.

Web tables

All the data published in this and other reports are available on the CSO web site (at www.cso.ie/census) where users will be able to build their own tables by selecting the data they are interested in and downloading them in an easy to use format for their own analysis.

Small area data

Small area data is an important output from the census and the complete set of tables for all the standard layers of geography, such as ED and Local Electoral Area, as well as tables for the new geographic unit, called Small Areas, are published in our interactive mapping application (SAPMAP) on the CSO website.

Interactive maps

In co-operation with the All Ireland Research Observatory (AIRO) summary census data is now available in thematic maps for Electoral Districts and all Small Areas. Combined with the release of the SAPS data in our new easy to use interactive mapping application, these new developments bring census data alive in a fresh and exciting way making it easier to access for all. Just follow the link from the website.

Analysis of religion over time

The proportion of Catholics in Ireland, 1881 to 2011

Roman Catholicism remained the predominant faith of Ireland in 2011 as it has done, according to census records, since at least 1881.

Roman Catholics represented just under 90 per cent of the population in each of the censuses held from 1881 to 1911. It subsequently rose to a peak in 1961. Ever since then, its proportion of the total population has declined, falling gently in the sixties and seventies then accelerating to a more pronounced drop in the eighties.

While the proportion of Catholics continued to decline in 2011, to reach its lowest point at 84 per cent, its congregation, at 3.86 million strong, was the highest since records began.

Church of Ireland and Protestantism

The Church of Ireland and Protestant religions combined represented the second largest religious grouping up to the census of 2002 when the numbers who selected 'No Religion' exceeded them. The number of Church of Ireland and Protestant members fell from a high of 317,576 in 1881 to a low of 89,187 in 1991. This number has since recovered back to 134,365 in 2011.

As a percentage of the total population, members of the Church of Ireland and Protestant religions combined fell from 8.2 per cent of the population to 2.92 per cent between 1881 and 2011.

Recent changes

Twenty years of religious change

The twenty years between 1991 and 2011 have seen significant increases in the non-Catholic population driven by not only growing numbers with no religion but also large increases in the religions of immigrants from Eastern Europe, Africa and Asia.

The fastest growing religion in percentage terms has been Orthodox followed by Apostolic and Pentecostal. Despite the recent arrival of large numbers of Polish Catholics this religion has seen the slowest annual average growth of the religions presented.

School children

The graph on the right shows the number of non-Catholic children by single year of age from age 0 to age 18. The numbers fell with age from a peak of 10,339 babies aged less than 1 year.

The patterns for those with no religion and other non-Catholic religions differ. Those with no religion decline as children age, with a low point of 12, before increasing again steadily up to age 18. It is difficult to know whether this represents a genuine increase in the numbers of children with no religion, or whether children temporarily identify with a religion during their school years, or both.

The numbers with other non-Catholic religions remain steady up to age 9 before declining, possibly reflecting the year of arrival of recent immigrants. The peak age was 8 with 6,214 children.

Religion by county

The administrative county of South Tipperary had the highest percentage of Catholics in 2011 with 91.4 per cent, while Dún Laoghaire-Rathdown had the lowest at 77.6 per cent. All of the cities with the exception of Limerick City featured as having low percentages of Catholics.

Wicklow had the highest percentage of Church of Ireland members at 6.7 per cent, followed by Cavan at 5.8 per cent.

Dublin City had the highest percentage of those with no religion with over 1 in 8 belonging to this category, while Monaghan was the lowest with 2.4 per cent.

81.9% The percentage of the population of urban areas who were Roman Catholic

6.7% The percentage of the population of Wicklow who were members of the Church of Ireland, the highest of any county

Urban and rural

There was a higher percentage of Catholics in rural areas (89.2%) than urban areas (81.9%). Indeed the percentage of Catholics falls as settlement size rises with small towns of 1,000 or fewer persons having 89.4 per cent Catholics while large towns of 10,000 or more having 82.8 per cent.

Those with no religion were concentrated in urban areas with four out of five in this group located in towns or settlements of 1,000 or more persons.

Four out of ten Church of Ireland members were located in the greater Dublin area, with a further 22.5 per cent in large towns of 10,000 or more and only 7.9 per cent in rural areas.

Muslims in Ireland were highly concentrated in urban areas with only 2.1 per cent in rural areas, while half (49.2%) were in the Greater Dublin area alone.

Roman Catholicism

Demographics

Given they accounted for 84 per cent of the total population in 2011 the demographic profile of Roman Catholics resembles very closely that of the general population.

The average age amongst Roman Catholic males was slightly older than that for the general population at 35.8 compared with 35.5 while females were also marginally older with an average age of 37.3 compared with 36.8 generally.

In 2011 there were 981 males for every 1,000 females for the general population, while amongst Catholics it was lower at 953.

Divorce rate rises amongst Catholics

There were 64,798 divorced Catholics in Ireland in April 2011 of which 27,468 were males and 37,330 were females.

The divorce rate amongst Roman Catholics was 3.6 per cent in 2011 up from 2.6 percent in 2006. This was lower than the rate for the state as a whole at 4.2 percent in 2011. The divorce rate is here defined as the number of divorced people as a percentage of those who were ever married.

Roman Catholic Irish nationals by diocese

The number of Roman Catholics as a percentage of Irish nationals fell from 92.2 per cent in 2006 to 89.7 per cent in 2011.

The data can be examined by diocese as illustrated in figure 7 where, among Irish nationals the proportion of the population with the Roman Catholic faith in each diocese is presented for 2006 and 2011.

The proportions have fallen in every diocese, with the highest fall in Galway & Kilmacduagh (-4.1%), followed by Dublin (-3.9%), Elphin (-2.6%) and Limerick (-2.6%).

Nationality

Of the 3.8 million Catholics in Ireland in 2011 92 per cent were Irish while the remaining 8 per cent belonged to a range of nationalities.

Among the non-Irish, Poles were the biggest group with 110,410 persons, followed by the UK with 49,761 and between them they accounted for over half of all non-Irish Catholics.

There were 19,420 Catholics with Asian nationalities of which Filipinos were the largest group with 10,810 persons followed by Indians with 6,919 persons.

There were 5,884 Catholics with US nationality and 5,051 Brazilian nationals and 4,619 Nigerians.

Marital status

Marriage and re-marriage were less common amongst this group than for the general population at 35.5 per cent of males married and 33.6 per cent of females compared with 48.3 per cent of males generally and 46.5 per cent of females.

There were higher numbers of single people with 56.2 per cent single compared with 41.7 for the total population.

The divorce rate amongst this group was 9.8 per cent in 2011 down from 10.2 percent in 2006. This was higher than the rate for the State as a whole at 4.2 percent in 2011. The divorce rate is here defined as the number of divorced people as a percentage of those who were ever married.

Growth and demographics

The sum total of those with no religion, atheists and agnostics increased more than fourfold between 1991 and 2011 to stand at 277,237. The largest proportionate increase was in atheism which has grown from 320 to 3,905 over the twenty years.

	Year
	1991	2002	2006	2011
Agnosticism	823	1,028	1,515	3,521

Total	67,413	139,792	188,762	277,237

Age and sex

There were 14,769 primary school aged children and 14,478 of secondary school age who had no religion, and a further 4,690 children aged under one year.

Among those with no religion, there were more men than women with 140 males per 100 females a fall from 155 in 1991.

Town size

The percentage of persons with no religion tended to increase with the size of the town they were living in, as illustrated in the graph on the right.

In rural areas just 3.9 per cent of the population belonged to this group. This rate increased to 5.8 per cent in the large towns of 10,000 or more persons.

Among the cities Galway had the highest percentage with no religion (10.5%) while Waterford and Limerick had the lowest – at 5.7 and 5.8 per cent of their populations respectively.

Level of education

Persons with no religion (including Atheists and Agnostics) had higher levels of education than the general population, as illustrated in the graph on the left.

They were more than twice as likely to have a postgraduate degree or diploma compared with the general population (17.1% and 8.2% respectively) and more than half (56%) had a third level qualification compared with 35.5 per cent of the general population.

Growth and demographics

There were 129,039 members of the Church of Ireland in April 2011 an increase of 6.4 per cent on 2006. Total numbers increased by 55.8 per cent (46,199 people) since 1991.

The population pyramid on the left shows the age distribution of Church of Ireland members for censuses from 1991 to 2011 and shows relatively even distribution by age group.

The average age of Church of Ireland members in 2011 was 39.2, older than the general population whose average age was 36.1 years.

There were 13,667 Church of Ireland members of primary school-going age and 8,809 of secondary school age.

Nationality

Three quarters of Church of Ireland members (usual residents) were Irish (74.8%). The next largest nationality came from the United Kingdom (17.3%). Lithuanians and Nigerians made up 1.3 and 1.2 per cent respectively, with Poland providing 1.0 per cent.

Farmers

At a broad occupational level, professional was the largest category, accounting for 20.1 per cent of workers. The craft and related category came next with 19.5 per cent of workers, over half of whom were in agriculture.

Indeed these 4,530 farmers were the largest occupation, accounting for 10.5 per cent of Church of Ireland workers, compared with 5.1 per cent for the total population.

Church of Ireland

Administrative counties

There were 12,108 Church of Ireland members in Cork County in 2011, the highest of any county and accounting for 9.4 per cent of all Church of Ireland members. This was followed by Dublin City with 11,679 persons. Limerick City had the smallest number of Church of Ireland members (805).

Towns

The Church of Ireland population was largely urban dwelling in 2011 with 61 per cent living in towns. Of the towns with a population of 1,500 persons or more (excluding the cities), the Wicklow towns of Greystones (1,490) and Bray (1,228) had the highest populations. Swords (794), Kilkenny (755) and Drogheda (690) had the next highest numbers of Church of Ireland members in 2011.

Farm size

Given the large number of farmers among the Church of Ireland population it is of interest to compare their distribution with that of Catholics by size of holding farmed.

Among Church of Ireland members 6 out of 10 had farms of 40 hectares or more, with 1 in 5 in the size class 81 hectares and higher. Among Roman Catholic farmers 12.3 per cent were in this top size category, with a further 30.8 per cent in the 40 to 80 hectare group.

Muslim community in Ireland

Growth since 1991

There were 49,204 Muslims in Ireland in April 2011 a sharp rise on the number five years previously. Ireland's Muslim community has grown from just 3,875 persons in 1991, to 19,147 in 2002 to 32,539 in 2006. Over these two decades, it grew from just 0.1 per cent of the total population to 1.1 per cent.

Age and sex

In 1991, there were 164 Muslim males for every 100 females. This gap narrowed to 133 males per 100 females in 2011.

There were 8,322 children of primary school-going age among the Muslim community in Ireland and a further 3,582 of secondary school age.

Marital status

Muslims in Ireland were less likely to be single and more likely to be married compared with the general population. Almost 6 out of 10 were married compared with 47.3 per cent generally.

Divorce was less prevalent among Muslims with just 2.5 per cent in this category (531 persons) compared with 4.2 per cent for the general population. There were 369 widowed Muslims. Divorce is here defined as the number of divorced people as a percentage of those who were ever married.

Nationality and ethnicity

Irish nationals represented the largest nationality group among Muslims in Ireland, accounting for 37.1 per cent of the total. A further 14.0 per cent had Pakistani nationality, the largest non-Irish group, followed by Bangladeshi and Nigerian (both 4%).

Muslims of UK nationality accounted for 2 per cent of all Muslims (823 persons) while French nationals made up 1 per cent (293 persons).

The majority of Muslim respondents claimed Asian (40.4%) and African (21.4%) ethnicity, with much of the remainder citing Irish (7.2%) and "Other White" (12.5%) ethnicity.

Residence

Over half (51.8%) of all of Ireland's Muslims lived in County Dublin. Dublin City was home to the largest proportion (18.2%), followed by Fingal (14.1%), South Dublin (13.8%) and Dún Laoghaire-Rathdown (5.6%). Cork County (4.6%), Galway City (3.2%) and Kerry (3.1%) were the next most popular areas.

Electoral Divisions in which the largest numbers of Muslims lived were Lucan-Esker (2,049), Blanchardstown-Blakestown (1,782), Castleknock-Knockmaroon (1,000), Balbriggan Rural (631) all in Dublin and in the ED of Ballycummin, County Limerick (776).

Principal economic status

The economic status of Muslim men and women varied greatly with relatively small numbers of women at work and slightly above average numbers of men looking after the home and family.

Among Muslim men 49 per cent were at work in April 2011 with 18 per cent unemployed or looking for their first job. In contrast only 1 in 5 Muslim women were working at the time of the census while a further 1 in 5 (19%) were unemployed.

Twenty nine per cent of Muslim women aged 15 and over were looking after the home or family - significantly higher than the rate for all non-Irish women at 14.6 per cent.

While 1.0 per cent of all men aged 15 and over were homemakers in 2011 the figure for Muslim men was slightly higher at 1.5 per cent with 294 male homemakers.

Orthodox Christianity in Ireland

Growth since 1991

There were 45,223 Orthodox Christians in Ireland in April 2011 - more than double the number five years earlier (20,798), and over four times the number recorded in 2002 (10,437).

Age and sex

Among Orthodox Christians there were 119 males for every 100 females in 2002 but this ratio had reversed by 2011 to 94 males per 100 females. The most populous age group for both males and females was 30-34. There were 5,548 children among the Orthodox Christian community of primary school age and 2,291 of secondary school age.

Types of Orthodox Christianity

While the majority (98.5%) simply ticked the category "Orthodox" on the census form, a small proportion further defined their religion. Three classifications were returned, namely Greek Orthodox (0.17%), Russian Orthodox (0.39%) and Coptic Orthodox (0.02%).

Nationality and ethnicity

In 2011, four out of five of Ireland's Orthodox Christians were non-Irish. European nationalities accounted for seventy per cent of Ireland's Orthodox Christians, with Romanian (26%) and Latvian (12.5%) nationalities being the largest.

Outside of Europe, Indian nationals were the largest nationality with 1,423 persons followed by Nigeria with 359 persons.

Over three quarters (76.1%) ticked "Any other White background" as their ethnicity, while 7.8 per cent selected "Irish" and 3.8 per cent selected "Any other Asian background".

Orthodox Christians were mainly concentrated in the outer suburbs of Dublin and in adjoining counties as illustrated in the map opposite. Just over half (50.8%) were living in Dublin with a further 12.3 per cent in the neighbouring counties of Kildare, Louth and Meath.

Apart from Cork County (4.0%), Galway City (2.7%) and Wexford (1.9%) Orthodox Christians were sparsely distributed across the rest of the country.

At Electoral Division (ED) level, over 10 per cent of the Orthodox Christian population lived in just five EDs. In fact, four of these EDs were also amongst the most popular for Irish Muslims – Blanchardstown-Blakestown (3.5%), Lucan-Esker (2.8%), Castleknock-Knockmaroon (1.4%) and Balbriggan-Rural (1.3%).

The labour force participation rate in 2011 for Orthodox Christians was 85 per cent for males and 71.5 per cent for females, much higher than the corresponding rates for the population as a whole (69.4% and 54.6%, respectively). However, the unemployment rates for Orthodox Christians were 27.9 per cent for males and 26.3 per cent for females, higher than the State rates of 22.3 per cent and 15 per cent, respectively.

Presbyterians in Ireland

Growth since 1991

The number of Presbyterians in Ireland in April 2011 stood at 24,600 up marginally on 2006 and continuing a pattern of increasing numbers since 2002 following long periods of decline up to 1991.

However, Ireland's Presbyterians in 1991 were a relatively homogeneous population compared with 2011 when recent immigrants had a major influence.

Age and sex

The ratio of males to females remained fairly stable since 1991 falling from 103 males per 100 females to 101 males per 100 females in 2011.

Average age also remained relatively unchanged. It was 38.5 years for males and 39.5 for females in 1991. This had barely changed by 2011, with males averaging 39.3 years and females averaging 38.6.

Nationality

The majority of Ireland's Presbyterians in 2011 were of Irish nationality (62.8%) followed by the United Kingdom (15.8%). Of those with a UK nationality (3,619 persons), 1,592 were born in Scotland and 680 were born in Northern Ireland.

Hungary (466) and Romania (269) were the only European nationalities with any significant numbers.

Outside of Europe, African nationalities dominated with 1,758 Presbyterians. Nigeria (636) and South Africa (464) were the largest African nationalities recorded in 2011.

Leinster was home to 44 per cent of Ireland's Presbyterians in 2011, followed by Ulster (38.5%), Munster (11.0%) and Connacht (6.4%). Donegal was the religion's most popular administrative county at 24.9 per cent, followed by Dublin City (10.1%) and Monaghan (10.0%).

The five Electoral Divisions (EDs) with the most Presbyterians were all in Donegal. These were: Convoys (339), Raphoe (273), Letterkenny Rural (268), Kincairney (248) and Rathmelton (246). More than 5 per cent of all Presbyterians lived in these EDs.

Social class

A distinction can be made between the social classes of Presbyterians born in Ireland or in the UK and those born elsewhere.

Presbyterians whose birthplace was either Ireland or the UK were more likely to be employed in the professional, managerial and technical categories than the population in general. Overall, Presbyterians born in Ireland or the UK had a higher social class than those born elsewhere.

Apostolic and Pentecostal

Growth since 1991

The Apostolic and Pentecostal population in Ireland numbered 285 in 1991, 3,152 in 2002, 8,116 in 2006 and 14,043 in 2011. This represents an annualised growth rate of over 21.5 per cent.

All but 52 of the Apostolic and Pentecostal population in 1991 were born on the island of Ireland. 2011 saw a religion whose numbers were largely driven by the immigration of the previous two decades.

A large proportion of under 20 year-olds brings the average age down to 22.9. There were 86 males per 100 females, a ratio that has changed little over the last 20 years.

Residence

Almost 64 per cent of Apostolic and Pentecostal members lived in the Greater Dublin area. Fingal was home to the majority at 22.2 per cent. Another 11.8 per cent resided in South Dublin, followed by Dublin city (8.5%).

Ethnicity and nationality

Over 60 per cent (8,486) of the 14,043 Apostolic and Pentecostal population were of African ethnicity in 2011 while 18.1 per cent (2,546) were of "Any other White background". Ethnic Irish people practicing the Apostolic and Pentecostal religion made up 10.5 per cent (1,474).

Irish nationality was the highest at 38.5 per cent, followed by Nigerian (27.7%) and Romanian (13.6%). Other nationalities of note were Indian (1.8%), South African (1.7%), Ghanaian (1.3%) and Zimbabwean (1.2%).

Age and sex

There were 953 Hindus in Ireland in 1991 and Census 2011 shows a tenfold increase over the last twenty years to 10,688.

Hindus were younger than the general population with an average age for men of 28.9 and for women of 26.7 compared with 35.5 and 36.8 for the general population. There were 138 Hindu men for every 100 Hindu women in 2011, a ratio which has fallen from 174 per 100 in 2002.

The peak age group for Hindu children was 0-4 years with 1,167 children. There were 900 children of primary school age between 5 and 12 with a further 360 of secondary school age between 13 and 18.

Ethnicity and nationality

Being a largely immigrant community, 80.4 per cent of Hindus declared themselves to be of Asian (other than Chinese) ethnicity. Others declared their ethnicity as Indian (5.3%), Hindu (2.7%) and Mauritian (1.7%).

Not surprisingly, 48.9 per cent of Hindus were of Indian nationality. This is followed by Irish (20.3%), Mauritian (15.4%) and Nepalese (3.8%). Although one-fifth had Irish nationality just 12.2 per cent of Hindus were born in Ireland.

Social class

Hindus as a group were more concentrated in the higher social classes than the general population.

More than twice the State average (17.5% compared with 7.3%) were classified to the professional class while over one-third (34.1%) lived in households classified to the managerial or technical class.

Fewer relative numbers were found in the skilled manual, semi-skilled and unskilled occupations than for the general population (17.9% and 29.7% respectively).

Other religions

Figure 29 on the right shows the remaining religions not dealt with so far in this report. These religions in total accounted for 98,643 persons in 2011 or 2.1 per cent of the enumerated population at that time.

Buddhist

The largest single religion recorded in the above group was Buddhist with 8,703 persons. Over one third (37.9%) were Irish by nationality.

Methodist

There were 6,842 Methodists recorded in 2011, a drop from 12,160 in 2006 (though some of this difference may be due to a change in the questionnaire between 2006 and 2011).

The next largest religion was Jehovah's Witness with 6,149 persons in 2011, up from 5,152 in 2006, a 19.4 per cent increase.

Lutheran (5,683 persons), Evangelical (4,188), and Baptist (3,531) religions all had greater than 3,000 persons in 2011. The Jewish religion recorded 1,984 persons in 2011 up from 1,930 persons in 2006.

Other Christian

A large group of persons (41,161) entered the broad religious description Christian on the census form, with no further information, and accordingly this group are categorised simply as Christian. This group increased by 40.9 per cent in the 5 year period since 2006.

Other stated religions

Other stated religions accounted for 14,118 persons in 2011, an increase of 64.6 per cent on 8,576 persons in 2006. Of these, the largest religions were Spiritualism (1,377) and Sikhism (1,290).

Ethnic or cultural background

A question on ethnicity and cultural background introduced in the 2006 census was retained unchanged in the 2011 census thereby facilitating a comparison between the 2006 and 2011 data.

The fastest growing ethnic group since 2006 was “Any other Asian background”, with an annualised growth of 13.3 per cent. The population of the State grew at 1.6 per cent per annum while those with Irish ethnicity increased by just 1.0 per cent. ‘Any other White background rose by 7.4 per cent annually while the annual increase for Africans was 7.7 per cent.

The largest group in 2011 was “White Irish” with 3,821,995 (85.8%) usual residents. This was followed by “Any other White background” (9.3%), non-Chinese Asian (1.5%) and “African” (1.3%).

Irish Travellers (29,495) made up 0.6 per cent of the usually resident population while Chinese (17,832) made up just 0.4 per cent. Those of mixed backgrounds (70,324) constituted 0.9 per cent.

Social class by ethnic or cultural background

The ethnic and cultural classification “Any other Asian background” fared best with respect to social class in Ireland. Just less than half (48.8%) of those belonging to this group were in the Professional or Managerial and Technical social classes.

The Irish ethnic group had 36.3 per cent in the top two social classes. However, Irish Travellers had the lowest proportion in the country in the top social classes at just 2.9 per cent.

Africans (32.5%) and Chinese (33.0%) had similar shares in the top three social classes but not in the Skilled-Manual category, which contained twice as many Chinese as Africans.

Birthplace

The vast majority (94.2%) of White Irish people were born in Ireland. Of the 5.8 per cent (223,403) born elsewhere, 123,456 were born in England and Wales and 54,889 were born in Northern Ireland. A further 20,289 were born in the Americas, of which 17,213 were born in the United States of America.

In comparison, 90.4 per cent of Irish Travellers were born in Ireland.

One in three of those with African ethnicity (33.6%) were born in Ireland (19,694 persons), as were 36.6 per cent (2,337) of those with other Black backgrounds.

The remaining Africans were born primarily in Nigeria which accounted for 32.1 per cent. Those of Any other Black background were born in a range of countries including England and Wales (8.7%), Brazil (11.2%) and Mauritius (4.5%).

Over three-fifths (61.6%) of people with Chinese ethnicity were born in China, while 8.1 per cent were born in Malaysia and 7.8 per cent were born in Hong Kong.

The largest group from Any other Asian background were born in India (23.9%), followed by the Philippines (19.1%) and Pakistan (11.1%).

Comparison of Irish Traveller population to general population

The total number of Irish Travellers enumerated in April 2011 was 29,573 accounting for just over half of one per cent (0.6%) of the total population. The figure represents a 32 per cent increase on 2006 (22,435).

The overall structure of the Irish Traveller population is very different to that of the general population, with a broad base tapering off sharply at the top, as illustrated in the population pyramid above. The average age of Irish Travellers was 22.4 compared with 36.1 for the general population, and over half of all Irish Travellers (52.2%) were aged under 20. Irish Traveller males of retirement age and above (65+) numbered only 337 accounting for 2.3 per cent of the total Irish Traveller male population, in stark contrast to the general population where males of retirement age and above accounted for 10.7 per cent of all males.

The majority (98.8%) of Irish Travellers were Irish by nationality, with most of the remainder being UK nationals (1.1%).

Irish Travellers – urban and rural

Figure 33 Irish Travellers enumerated in each administrative county

Travellers by county

The Irish Traveller community was not evenly spread across the country.

Galway county had the highest number of Irish Travellers of all the administrative counties, with 2,476 persons, followed by South Dublin with 2,216. In contrast there were only 152 Irish Travellers enumerated in Waterford county.

More than four out of five Irish Travellers lived in an urban area. This compares with 62 per cent for the general population.

Marital status and families

Irish Traveller marital status

The tendency of Irish Travellers to marry younger is clearly illustrated in the graph opposite. Among 15 – 29 year olds, 33.4 per cent of Irish Travellers were married compared with just 8.2 per cent of the general population. There were 252 married 15-19 year olds of which 91 were males and 161 were females.

A higher proportion of Irish Travellers were separated, with 11.4 per cent of people in this category compared with 5.5 per cent of the general population. Divorce on the other hand was rare with only 188 divorced Irish Travellers accounting for 1.8 per cent of ever married persons compared with 4.2 per cent of the general population.

Irish Traveller households

Of the total 7,765 Irish Traveller households (defined as households containing at least one Irish Traveller) in 2011 6,667 were classified as family households making this type of household more prevalent (85.9%) than among the general population (70%).

In general the make up of Irish Traveller households was different to those of the general population. There were proportionally more lone parent households (20.5% compared with 11.9%), fewer cohabiting couples without children (2.1% compared with 5%) and more households with more than one family (2.5% compared with 1.1%).

While almost 1 in 4 (23.8%) households generally were comprised of one person, among Irish Traveller households these accounted for only 1 in 10 (10.4%) households.

In 2011, 1,118,622 women in the State reported that they had given birth to 3,242,385 babies, an average of 2.9 each. These figures include 5,820 Irish Traveller women who reported that they had given birth to 27,197 babies, an average of 4.7 each. In 2006, the equivalent figure for Irish Traveller women was 5.0 babies.

Among 40-49 year olds (women who have typically completed their fertility) those with no children made up just 11.6 per cent of women amongst Irish Travellers compared with 18.7 per cent of women generally. 26.9 per cent of Irish Traveller women had given birth to 5 or more children in stark contrast to just 2.6 per cent of women overall. Furthermore, just over an eighth (13.0%) of Irish Traveller women had given birth to 7 or more children, compared with 0.4 per cent of women generally.

Irish Travellers - education

Early school leavers

Of the 12,442 Irish Travellers who had completed their full time education, 7,319 provided information on the age at which their education ceased. The results show that 4,041 of these had completed their education before the age of 15 accounting for 55 per cent of the total. This compares with only 11 per cent for the general population.

Only 3.1 per cent continued their education past the age of 18 compared with 41.2 per cent for the general population.

Irish Traveller females stayed longer in school than their male counterparts with 15 per cent of females ceasing their education at age 17 or over compared with just 11 per cent of males.

Third level subjects

A new question 'field of study of the highest qualification completed to date (excluding secondary school qualification)' was asked in 2011.

The number of Irish Travellers who responded to this question was 615 of whom 378 were female. The top three fields of study undertaken by Irish Travellers males were, Engineering manufacturing and construction (85 males), Education and teacher training (20), Social sciences, business and law (19) and Health and Welfare (19).

The top three fields of study for Irish Traveller females were Health and welfare (156 females), Personal services (65) and Social sciences (54).

Travellers increase their level of education

In 2011, 21.8 per cent of Irish Travellers whose education had ceased were educated to lower secondary level, compared with 15.2 per cent in 2002. The percentage of Irish Travellers who completed upper secondary education more than doubled from 3.6 per cent to 8.2 per cent over the same period.

Seven out of ten Irish Travellers (69.0%) were educated to primary level or lower, including 507 persons aged between 15 and 19.

The number of Irish Travellers who completed third level in 2011 was 115 or 1 per cent. This compares with 30.7 per cent of the general population excluding Irish Travellers.

The percentage of Irish Travellers with no formal education in 2011 was 17.7 per cent compared with 1.4 per cent in the general population.

Principal economic status of Irish Travellers

Unemployment in the Irish Traveller community was 84.3 per cent in 2011, up from 74.9 per cent five years earlier. Out of a total labour force of 9,973, 86.6 per cent of the 5,829 males were unemployed while 81.2 per cent of the 4,144 women were without work. The labour force participation rate among Irish Travellers was 57.3 per cent compared with 61.9 per cent for the general population.

One in three Irish Traveller women (32.7%) were looking after the home and family, nearly twice the rate of the general population (17.5%) while 9.5 per cent of all Irish Travellers aged 15 and over were unable to work due to permanent sickness or disability - more than double that of the general population (4.4%).

Occupations of Irish Travellers

In a category dominated by men, "Elementary trades and related occupations" proved to be the most popular occupational category among Irish Travellers in 2011. This was followed by Elementary administration and service occupations which was evenly gender-balanced. Caring personal service occupations was the most popular among females, while skilled construction and building trades was an exclusively male occupation.

Higher rates of disability

Irish Travellers had higher rates of disability than the general population. In 2011, 17.5 per cent of Irish Travellers had one or more disabilities compared with 13.0 per cent for the State as a whole.

Amongst Irish Travellers, the most common type of disability was 'difficulty with pain, breathing or any other chronic illness' (7.7%). This was followed by 'difficulty with remembering, learning or concentrating' (6.6%) and 'difficulty with basic physical activities' (6.3%).

The total number of disabilities of the 5,169 Irish Travellers who responded was 14,933. This was an average of 2.9 disabilities per disabled Irish Traveller.

Irish Travellers - health

General health

In 2011, the self-assessed health of Irish Travellers was below that of the general population. While overall the number of Irish Travellers indicating good or very good health was 86.6 per cent, compared with 90.2 per cent for the general population, Irish Travellers health deteriorates more quickly with age.

For those aged between 30 and 49 years, 23.7 per cent of Irish Travellers indicated fair, bad or very bad health compared with only 7.0 per cent for the general population, while between the ages of 50 and 69 this had increased to 48.9 per cent for Irish Travellers and only 18.5 per cent for the general population.

Among all Irish Travellers men and women had very similar levels of general health.

Nature of occupancy

Irish Traveller households had a significantly lower home ownership rate than the general population with 1 in 5 (20.2%) households owning their home compared with 69.7 per cent for the general population.

Of the 5,956 Irish Traveller households who were renting their home the majority (55.7%) were renting from a local authority with 2,257 renting from a private landlord. This is considerably higher than five years previously. As the wording of the question on nature of occupancy (ownership vs. renting) was simplified in the 2011 census comparisons with earlier years should be treated with caution.

Accommodation type

In the 2011 census 29,573 persons identified themselves as Irish Travellers. Of these the majority, 28,498 people, were living in private dwellings, while a small number, 641, were enumerated in communal establishments.

In Census 2011 there were 7,765 households where some or all of the occupants indicated they were Irish Travellers of which 1,874 contained some persons who indicated they were not Irish Travellers. Tables analysing Irish Traveller accommodation in this report relate to the 7,765 households.

Between 2006 and 2011 the percentage of Irish Traveller households residing in caravans or mobile/temporary structures halved from 24.7 per cent to 12.3 per cent. In 2011, 920 households with Irish Travellers resided in such temporary accommodation.

Central heating on the rise

Of the 6,579 Irish Traveller households in permanent housing units, 97 per cent had some form of central heating. In 2006, the rate was 79 per cent.

A revised question on central heating in 2011 asked about the main type of fuel used in central heating systems.

Oil was the most popular type of fuel (as it was for the general population) with 34 per cent of households, followed by natural gas (28%). Coal was used by almost 1 in 5 (19.3%) of Irish Traveller households - four times as popular as amongst the general population.

Background Notes

A Census of Population was taken on the night of Sunday, 10 April 2011 in accordance with the Statistics (Census of Population) Order 2010 (S.I. No. 207 of 2010)¹. This report is the seventh in a series of profile reports and looks at Religion, Ethnicity and Irish Travellers.

Coverage of the Census

The census figures relate to the de facto population i.e. the population recorded for each area represents the total of all persons present within its boundaries on the night of Sunday, 10 April 2011, together with all persons who arrived in that area on the morning of Monday, 11 April 2011, not having been enumerated elsewhere. Persons on board ships in port are included with the population of adjacent areas. The figures, therefore, include visitors present on Census Night as well as those in residence, while usual residents temporarily absent from the area are excluded.

The date of the census was chosen to coincide with a period when passenger movements were at a minimum and, consequently, the figures closely approximate to those for the normally resident population. Members of the Defence Forces who, on Census Night, were serving abroad with the United Nations were excluded from the enumeration.

Conduct of the Census

A temporary field force consisting of 6 Census Liaison Officers, 44 Regional Supervisors, 438 Field Supervisors and some 4,854 part-time Enumerators carried out the census enumeration. During the four weeks before Census Day the enumerators entered details in respect of 2 million private residences and communal establishments in their enumerator record books. They simultaneously delivered blank census questionnaires to 1.65 million of these dwellings that were expected to be occupied on Census Night. Approximately 290,000 residences were vacant at the time of the census, while in the remaining cases the household was either enumerated elsewhere or temporarily absent from the State. The collection of completed questionnaires took place between Monday 11 April and Friday 13 May, 2011.

The Central Statistics Office (CSO) wishes to record its appreciation of the public-spirited co-operation received from households and the work carried out by the census field force.

Definitions

Aggregate Town and Aggregate Rural Areas

The term Aggregate Town Area refers to towns (including environs of legal towns) with a total population of 1,500 or more. The term Aggregate Rural Area refers to the population outside Aggregate Town areas and includes the population of towns with a population of less than 1,500 persons.

Small Areas (SAs)

Small Areas are a relatively recent geographic concept compiled by the National Institute of Regional and Spatial Analysis (NIRSA) on behalf of the Ordnance Survey Ireland (OSi) and in consultation with the CSO. They were designed as the lowest level of geography for the compilation of statistics in line with data protection guidelines and typically contain between 50 and 200 dwellings. A further constraint imposed when creating these new areas was that they nested within Electoral Division boundaries. Finally they are generally comprised either of complete townlands or neighbourhoods, or whole parts of these areas.

Private Household

A private household comprises either one person living alone or a group of people (not necessarily related) living at the same address with common housekeeping arrangements - that is, sharing at least one meal a day or sharing a living room or sitting room.

A permanent private household is a private household occupying a permanent dwelling such as a dwelling house, flat or bedsitter (see question H1 on the second page of the census form).

A temporary private household is a private household occupying a caravan, mobile home or other temporary dwelling and includes travelling people and homeless persons living rough on Census Night (see question H1 on the second page of the census form).

Size of Household

The number of persons in a household consists of the total number of persons usually resident there on the night of Sunday, 10 April 2011, including those absent from the household for less than three months. Visitors present in the household on census night are excluded.

Non-private Household (Communal Establishment)

A non-private household is a group of persons enumerated in a boarding house, hotel, guest house, hostel, barrack, hospital, nursing home, boarding school, religious institution, welfare institution, prison or ship, etc. A non-private household may include usual residents and/or visitors. However, proprietors and managers of hotels, principals of boarding schools, persons in charge of various other types of institutions and members of staff who, with or without their families, occupy separate living accommodation on the premises are classified as private households.

Household Reference Person

The reference person in each private household is the first person in the household identified as a parent, spouse, cohabiting partner or head of a non-family household containing related persons. Where no person in the household satisfied these criteria, the first usually resident person was used as the reference person.

For the purposes of expressing the household reference person in simple terms for the reader, the terms head of household or householder are sometimes used instead of the household reference person in this report.

Family Units

A family unit or nucleus is defined as:

- (1) a husband and wife or a cohabiting couple; or
- (2) a husband and wife or a cohabiting couple together with one or more usually resident never-married children (of any age); or
- (3) one parent together with one or more usually resident never-married children (of any age).

Family members have to be usual residents of the relevant household.

The determination of household and family composition is based on responses to the question on the census form dealing with relationships within the household.

Irish Travellers and Irish Traveller households

The Irish census is conducted on a De Facto basis - meaning it sets out to enumerate everyone who was in Ireland on census night. Not all persons enumerated are usual residents of Ireland, and not all those who are residents are enumerated at their place of usual residence. This can lead to different counts of the population.

There were a total of 29,573 Travellers enumerated in April 2011 as seen in Table 12, of which 641 were enumerated in Communal establishments and 28,932 were enumerated in Private households. For the purposes of this report an Irish Traveller household has been defined as a private household that contains at least one usually resident Traveller and there were 7,765 such households (Table 13). Accordingly not all persons in Traveller households are Irish Travellers and the total number of persons in Traveller households was 32,574 (Table 16) while the total number of Travellers usually resident in Travellers households was 28,498 (Table 13). Of the total 29,573 Travellers 29,495 were usual residents of Ireland, as seen in Table 11.

Industry

In Census 2011 industry is coded using NACE – the General Industrial Classification of Economic Activities within the European Communities. The current version, NACE Rev. 2, is a 4-digit activity classification that was adopted in 2006 and is a revision of the version originally published by Eurostat in 1970. The previous version, NACE Rev.1, was in use in the censuses of 2002 and 2006. To aid in the comparison of data from both censuses, industry has been dual-coded in 2011, i.e. coded to both NACE Rev.1 and NACE Rev.2

NACE Rev 2 is a hierarchical classification, with 88 Divisions at 2-digit level, 272 Groups at 3-digit level and 615 Classes at 4-digit level. The NACE Rev 1 classification is also hierarchical, with 62 Divisions at 2-digit level, 224 Groups at 3-digit level and 514 Classes at 4-digit level. The NACE Rev.2 classification is shown in Appendix 3.

The industry in which a person is engaged is determined (regardless of their occupation) by the main economic activity carried out in the local unit in which he or she works. If, however, the local unit provides an ancillary service to another unit in the business (e.g. administration, storage, etc.) then the persons in the ancillary unit are classified to the industry of the unit it services. Thus, while the occupational classification is concerned only with the particular work performed by an individual regardless of the activity carried on at the local unit, the industrial classification is concerned only with the ultimate purpose of the unit or end product regardless of the precise nature of the work performed by each individual.

A manufacturing or commercial unit may employ persons with many different occupations for the purpose of making a particular product or for giving a particular service. Conversely, there are cases in which particular occupations are largely confined to a single industry, e.g. the majority of persons with agricultural occupations are in the agriculture industry and most miners are in the mining industry.

The term industry used for Census of Population purposes is not confined to manufacturing industry. It is synonymous with the term "sector of economic activity". The basis of the industrial classification is, in the case of employees, the business or profession of their employer and in the case of self-employed persons, the nature of their own business or profession.

Socio-economic group

The entire population was classified to one of ten specific socio-economic groups (introduced in 1996). In addition, a residual group entitled. "All others gainfully occupied and unknown" was used where sufficient details were not provided. The classification aims to bring together persons with similar social and economic statuses on the basis of the level of skill or educational attainment required. In defining socio-economic group no attempt is made to rank groups in order of socio-economic importance.

The socio-economic group of persons aged 15 years or over who are at work is determined by their occupation (coded using Soc90) and employment status. Unemployed or retired persons aged 15 years or over are classified according to their former occupation and employment status.

Persons looking after the home/family or at school/college, who are members of a family unit, were classified to the socio-economic group of another person in the family unit using a priority table based on the relationships within the family. Thus, if the reference person² of a family was at work, unemployed or retired, other persons were assigned to his/her socio-economic group. If the reference person was neither at work, unemployed nor retired (e.g. never worked, permanently disabled, etc.), they were assigned to the socio-economic group of the other parent, spouse or cohabiting partner in the family unit. If there was no such spouse or partner or if the spouse, in turn, was neither at work, unemployed or retired, they were assigned to the socio-economic group of a working son/daughter. If there were no persons in the family unit with a socio-economic group then they were assigned to the unknown socio-economic group. Other persons looking after the home/family or at school/college who were not members of a family unit, such as relatives of the reference person (e.g. widowed grandparents, etc.) were assigned a socio-economic group using the above method. Unrelated persons or persons living alone who are looking after the home/family or at school/college were assigned to the unknown group.

The socio-economic groups used in the census are as follows:

- A Employers and managers
- B Higher professional
- C Lower professional
- D Non-manual
- E Manual skilled
- F Semi-skilled
- G Unskilled
- H Own account workers
- I Farmers
- J Agricultural workers
- Z All others gainfully occupied and unkn

² The reference person in each private household is the first person identified as a parent, spouse or cohabiting partner in the first family in the household. Where no person in the household satisfies these criteria, the first usually resident person is used as the reference person.

Census Towns

From 1971 to 2006, Census towns were defined as a cluster of fifty or more occupied dwellings where, within a radius of 800 metres there was a nucleus of thirty occupied dwellings (on both sides of a road, or twenty on one side of a road), along with a clearly defined urban centre e.g. a shop, a school, a place of worship or a community centre. Census town boundaries were extended over time where there was an occupied dwelling within 200 metres of the existing boundary.

To avoid the agglomeration of adjacent towns caused by the inclusion of low density one off dwellings on the approach routes to towns, the 2011 criteria were tightened, in line with UN criteria.

In Census 2011 a new Census town was defined as being a cluster of 50 or more occupied dwellings, with a maximum distance between any dwelling and the building closest to it of 100 metres, and where there was evidence of an urban centre (shop, school etc). The proximity criteria for extending existing 2006 Census town boundaries was also amended to include all occupied dwellings within 100 metres of an existing building. Other information based on OSi mapping and orthogonal photography was also taken into account when extending boundaries. Boundary extensions were generally made to include the land parcel on which a dwelling was built or using other physical features such as roads, paths etc.

Legal town boundaries are defined by legal statute and these were strictly applied. Extensions to the Environs of legal towns were constructed using the 100 metre proximity rule applied to Census towns.

102 new census towns were created for the 2011 Census.

Historically for the censuses of 1926 to 1951 a census town was defined simply as a cluster of twenty or more houses and the precise delimitation of the town was left to the discretion of the individual enumerator concerned. As part of the general review of towns for the 1956 Census, the boundaries for the census towns were drawn up in consultation with the various Local Authorities applying uniform principles in all areas of the country. The definition of a census town was changed at the 1956 Census, from twenty houses to twenty occupied houses; this definition was also applied at the 1961 and 1966 Censuses.

Roman Catholic Dioceses

The digital boundaries used to spatially code population data to Roman Catholic Dioceses were created by Omar Sarhan (2008) and Copyright is attributed to the Council for Research and Development at the Irish Bishops Council and the Department of Geography at NUI Maynooth.

Census 2011

The 2011 Census will take place on Sunday 10 April and will count all the people and households in the country on that night. It is the twenty-fourth census to be held since 1841. The census results will give a comprehensive picture of the social and living conditions of our people and will assist in planning for the future.

What you need to do

Please keep this form in a safe place and complete it on the night of Sunday 10 April, Census Night. You should consult the Explanatory Notes on the back page to assist you in completing the form. Remember to sign the declaration on page 23 and to have your completed form ready for collection by your Enumerator.

Legal obligation to participate

This is a Notice under Section 26 of the Statistics Act 1993. The Census is being taken under the Statistics Act 1993 and the Statistics (Census of Population) Order 2010. Under Sections 26 and 27 of the Statistics Act 1993 you are obliged by law to complete and return this form. Any person who fails or refuses to provide this information or who knowingly provides false information may be subject to a fine of up to €25,000.

Confidentiality is guaranteed

The confidentiality of your census return is legally guaranteed by the Statistics Act 1993. The Central Statistics Office will use the information you provide for statistical purposes only. This includes the production of statistical tables and analytical reports and the selection of samples for some of our surveys.

Your Census Enumerator

Your Census Enumerator will help you if you have any questions about the Census. Please co-operate fully with your Enumerator to help ensure the success of Census 2011.

Thank you for your co-operation.

Gerard O'Hanlon
Director General

Who should complete the Census Form?

The householder or any adult member of the household present on the night of Sunday 10 April should complete this form. A separate Household Form should be completed for every household.

A household is:

- one person living alone, or
- a group of related or unrelated people living at the same address with common housekeeping arrangements, meaning they share at least one meal a day or share a living or sitting room.

Do you need additional forms?

If there is more than one household at this address, ask your Enumerator for another Household Form.

If there are more than 6 persons in your household on Sunday 10 April, ask your Enumerator for a blue Individual Form for each additional person.

How to complete your Census Form

1. Use a Black or Blue pen.
2. Mark boxes like this .
3. If you make a mistake, do this and mark the correct box.

Where you are required to write in an answer please use BLOCK CAPITAL LETTERS and leave one space between each word. Continue on to a new line if a word will not fit, for example:

P	T	I	O	N	I	S	T

Have your form ready for collection

Your Enumerator will return between Monday 11 April and Monday 9 May to collect your completed form.

If your form has not been collected by 9 May, please return it fully completed to Central Statistics Office, PO Box 2011, Freepost 4726, Swords, Co. Dublin.

Before you sign the declaration please check:

- That you have completed the questions about your accommodation on page 2.
- That in List 1 on page 3, you have accounted for all persons (including visitors) who spent the night of Sunday 10 April at this address.
- That you have answered all questions which should have been answered for each person who spent the night of Sunday 10 April in the household (pages 4-21).
- That in List 2 on page 3, you have accounted for all persons who usually live at this address but who were temporarily absent on Sunday 10 April.
- That you have answered all questions on pages 22-23 for all household members temporarily absent on the night of Sunday 10 April.
- That no person has been double-counted on the form.

I declare that this form is correct and complete to the best of my knowledge and belief.

Signature

You have now completed the Census Form.

Thank you for your co-operation.

If there are more than 4 persons temporarily absent from the household on the night of Sunday 10 April, please ask your Enumerator for guidance.

Explanatory Notes

Question H3 – Does your household own or rent your accommodation?

If you rent your accommodation (box 3), or live in it rent free (box 4), you should also answer the second part of the question 'who is your landlord?'. Select the appropriate box (1, 2 or 3) to indicate whether your landlord is a 'Private landlord', a 'Local Authority' or a 'Voluntary/Co-operative housing body', regardless of whether or not you pay all or part of the rent yourself, or if it is paid on your behalf by the HSE or any other body.

Question H4 – If your accommodation is rented, how much rent does your household pay?

If the HSE or any other body pays part of the rent, only the amount paid by the household should be entered. Enter the amount to the nearest Euro and mark the box corresponding to the period covered e.g. if your household pays a weekly rent of €78.60 enter 79 and mark box 1. If all of your rent is paid on your behalf enter 0 and mark box 1.

Question 4 – Relationship

The relationship question is designed to determine families within households. This includes where there are two or more families in the one household. For example, a household consisting of an adult daughter living with her two parents and her own child would be counted as a two family household.

The example given below shows how the question should be answered for the child in this situation, where the parents are Persons 1 and 2 on the form, the adult daughter is Person 3 and the child is Person 4.

Mark one box only for each person.

Question 7 – Where do you usually live?

This question refers to your place of usual residence at the time of the Census. If you have lived at this address for a continuous period of at least 12 months before Census Night, or have arrived at this address in the 12 month period before Census Night with the intention of staying here for at least one year you should mark box 1 (HERE). If your usual residence is not here but is elsewhere in Ireland (including Northern Ireland) you should mark box 2 and write in your full address. If your usual residence is elsewhere abroad you should mark box 3 and give the country of usual residence.

The general guideline is that a person's place of usual residence is where he/she spends most of his/her daily night rest. The following specific guidelines should be used:

- Those away from home during the week who return to the family home at weekends should consider the family home as their place of usual residence.
- Primary and secondary students who are boarding away from home, and third level students at college or university, should consider the family home as their place of usual residence.
- If a person has spent or intends to spend 12 months or more in an institution then the institution is that person's place of usual residence.
- If a person regularly lives in more than one residence during the year then the place where he/she spends the majority of the year should be chosen as his/her place of usual residence.

Question 8 – Where did you usually live one year ago?

This question is for persons aged 1 year or over. The guidelines in relation to Question 7 also apply to this question. If your place of usual residence one year before the Census was the same as now you should mark box 1 (SAME as now).

Question 9 – Have you lived outside the Republic of Ireland for a continuous period of one year or more?

This question is for persons aged 1 year or over. If your place of usual residence is in the Republic of Ireland and you were either:

- born in this country and lived outside it for a continuous period of one year or more, or
- born abroad and lived outside Ireland for a continuous period of one year or more,

then you should mark box 1 (Yes). You should also write in the year of last taking up residence in this country and the country of last previous residence.

Question 15 – Do you speak a language other than English or Irish at home?

If you do not speak a language other than English or Irish at home you should mark box 2 (No) and proceed to Question 16. This means those who speak only English and/or Irish at home do not have to report on their ability to speak the English language.

Question 16 – Do you have any of the following long-lasting conditions or difficulties?

For the purpose of this question a long lasting condition or difficulty is one which has lasted or is expected to last 6 months or longer, or that regularly re-occurs.

Question 22 – Do you provide regular unpaid personal help for a friend or family member with a long-term illness, health problem or disability?

If you provide regular unpaid help as a carer, regardless of whether or not you are in receipt of Carer's Allowance/Benefit, you should mark box 1 (Yes) and write in the weekly number of hours of caring.

Question 25 – What is the highest level of education/training (full-time or part-time) which you have completed to date?

The categories distinguished in this question follow the National Framework of Qualifications (NFQ). Further details can be found at www.nfq.ie

Further information on FETAC, HETAC, foreign qualifications and all other qualifications in general can be found at www.census.ie

Question 26 – What is the main field of study of the highest qualification you have completed to date?

This question is to capture post-secondary school qualifications only. If you have a number of qualifications, the field of study relating to the highest qualification only should be listed.

Question 27 – How would you describe your present principal status?

You should mark one box only to select the category which you feel best describes your present principal status. If you are on sick leave or maternity leave and intend to return to work at some stage you should mark box 1 (Working).

Question 34 – Address of place of work, school or college

Persons who leave the household to attend work, school or college should supply the full name and address of this place.

For children who attend pre-school facilities (e.g. crèche, kindergarten) outside the home, the full name and address of this facility should be supplied by the person filling in the form.
